

To the FCC:

I strongly support the continued development of the Satellite Radio business. Their product is superior and worth every penny, as has been shown by the massive adoption by consumers across the country. I ask that you allow companies such as XM Satellite Radio to continue to innovate and develop their lines of programming, including key areas such as instant traffic and weather.

Sincerely,

Roland Karl Wiley